Learn to make your own solid silver jewellery using Art Clay Silver

We are now running workshops where you can learn how to make your own unique designs in solid silver without having to master silversmithing techniques. We use a material called Art Clay Silver (or precious metal clay) which is silver particles suspended in organic binders and water. This versatile material can be worked like regular clay, but on a much smaller scale, to produce amazing results. The water and binders burn away when the clay is fired leaving 99.9% fine silver which can be hallmarked.

Our workshops are taught by a certified Art Clay Silver teacher.
